

Build and Broaden: Conference on Social Connections to Promote Individual and Community Resilience in Post-COVID-19 Society

SUPPORTED BY NATIONAL SCIENCE FOUNDATION #2037433

THE UNIVERSITY OF TEXAS AT ARLINGTON

REGISTER
FREE

RSVP HERE

VIRTUAL SESSION - 2
SEP 17TH, 2PM-4PM (CST)

PRESENTATIONS

DR. KAREN FINGERMAN

Director of the Texas Aging & Longevity Center,
Director of Research UT Center on Aging & Population Sciences,
Professor of Human Development & Family Sciences at UT Austin

Topic: Weaker Ties in the Social World and During COVID?

DR. NORA HERNANDEZ

Assistant Professor in the School of Social Work,
The University of Texas at Arlington.

Topic: Cultivating COVID-19 Resiliency among Food Production Workers.

DR. JOSIAH HEYMAN

Professor of Anthropology,
Director of the Center for Inter-American and Border Studies at the University of Texas at El Paso

DR. ANABEL CANCHOLA

Program and Contract Administrator at Doña Ana County,
Health and Human Services Department in Las Cruces,
New Mexico

DR. SALTANAT CHILDRESS

Assistant Professor in the School of Social Work,
The University of Texas at Arlington.

Topic: Maternal Stress and Resilience during the COVID-19 Pandemic: Findings from a Mixed-Method Study

UPCOMING
SESSIONS

IN-PERSON CONFERENCE OCT 7TH & 8TH, HILTON ARLINGTON

For more info, please visit our website: <https://socialconnectionsconference.uta.edu>